The Centre for Higher Education Research, Teaching and Learning specialises in the study of higher education as a field of interest. The Centre offers programmes leading to a range of qualifications in higher education including the Postgraduate Diploma in Higher Education, MEd and PhD. It also conducts research into higher education.

The Centre also functions as a resource to the University in support of the achievement of its mission and vision statements. To this end, it is involved in the promotion and assurance of quality in relation to teaching and learning and the development of academic staff as professional educators.

The Centre also incorporates an Extended Studies Unit which is responsible for the development, co-ordination and teaching of the foundation phase of Extended Programmes in the Faculties of Commerce, Humanities and Science.
