METHODIST ARCHIVES COLLECTION

Manuscript and other documents, periodicals, books, pamphlets and pictorial material relating to the history of the Methodist church in South Africa. On loan from the Methodist Church of South Africa.

GRAHAMSTOWN

FOREWORD

The completion of this list provides the opportunity to pay tribute to those who began the collecting of the records of the Methodist Church of South Africa.

The Rev. William Eveleigh and his successors in office as book stewards have collected and preserved at the Book Room in Cape Town many valuable records, and it is to be hoped that a similar list will be compiled of those items to supplement the present list.

The death of the Rev. William Eveleigh, and the dispersal of his own private collection of Africana provided the incentive for the establishment of the Methodist Archives, and the present writer was appointed Archivist by the Methodist Conference of 1948, the year in which the Methodist Historical Society was established. The collection was first housed at Livingstone House, Rhodes University, of which the Archivist was Warden. It grew to considerable size and became too large for efficient organisation and use in Livingstone House, and in 1965 the Conference announced its decision to transfer the collection on loan to the Cory Library for Historical Research, Rhodes University. The loan was formalised in a Memorandum of Agreement which makes the following provisions:

- "1. The Methodist Church hereby agrees that its Archives, comprising books, periodicals, manuscripts and objects of historical interest shall be forthwith placed on loan with the University for an indefinite period.
2. The Archives will form a part of the Rhodes University Library, but will be maintained as an entity under the control of the University Librarian. During the duration of this Agreement, additions may be made by either party to the said Archives and all such additions shall become a part of the Archives and shall be subject to all the terms of this Agreement.
3. Access to the books constituting the Archives will be allowed at all reasonable times, subject to the approval of the University Librarian, who shall exercise discretionary power in considering any applications submitted for such purpose.
4. The books are for purposes of reference only and not for lending purposes, and shall not be removed from the Library save in exceptional circumstances and with the sanction of the University Librarian.

- "5. The Methodist Church will appoint an archivist who shall be charged with the duties of collecting material which shall be transferred periodically, at the discretion of the University Librarian, as additions to the Library aforementioned, and the archivist shall further act as consultant in an honorary capacity to the University.
6. The University undertakes to ensure that all books and documents comprising the Archives shall be maintained in good condition, reasonable wear and tear excepted.
7. This agreement shall be subject to termination on six months' notice being given in writing by either party".

Through the generosity of a number of Methodist laymen, and the willing co-operation of the Methodist Mission House, the Archives now include microfilm records of many documents which are housed in the Methodist Missionary Society Archives in London.

The Methodist Archives are housed in Grahamstown which has become an increasingly important centre for the study and preservation of the English cultural tradition in Southern Africa. These Archives are under the care of Rhodes University and it is to be hoped that the records, now available for historical research, will be profitably used by many students, for the enrichment of the knowledge of the life and work of some who strove to serve all the peoples of Southern Africa.

The final tribute must be to Mr. Michael Berning, Cory Librarian, who has been responsible for the cataloguing of the collection and for the preparation of the present list.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The task of the Cory Library has been to catalogue the collection and to arrange it in the special shelving provided. The methods employed are those in general use in the Cory Library, and it is hoped that they will meet the needs of all who have occasion to consult these records. Books are shelved according to the Dewey Classification, which is familiar to most library users, periodicals by shelf number, pamphlets in numbered boxes, and the various manuscript and pictorial items by MS. accession numbers. The block of numbers MS.45,001 to 16,000 of the Library's general MS. sequence has been allotted to this collection, and other blocks of numbers will be used in future when necessary.

It is scarcely necessary to draw attention to the importance of the valuable manuscript records in this collection, but one should perhaps make mention of the many basic printed sources of Methodist history it contains, such as the Wesleyan Missionary Notices, the Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society's Reports, the British and South African Conference Minutes, and the South African Christian Watchman. No section of the collection should, however, be seen as complete or static. Documentary and other coverage of the Church's history is much stronger for some parts of South Africa than for others and there must be many gaps that can still be filled. It is hoped that the production of this list will stimulate the owners of Methodist archival material to place it in the Archives Collection either as a gift or on loan, or alternatively to allow photographic copies to be made for inclusion in the collection. There are good facilities for photographic copying in the Rhodes University Library. Supplementary lists of accessions will be issued as the collection grows.

Written enquiries concerning materials in the Methodist Archives should be sent to the Cory Librarian, Rhodes University Library, P.O. Box 184, Grahamstown, C.P. The collection is housed in the main library building of Rhodes University, and the Cory Librarian would be pleased to grant access to the Archives at all reasonable times, as laid down in the Memorandum of Agreement.

J.M. Berning
Cory Librarian
