

Short Course in Instructional Coaching for Teacher Professional Development

2025

What is the purpose of the course?

Research has shown that providing on-site coaching for teachers is one of the most effective ways of improving the quality of teaching and learners' achievement. This Short Course will introduce participants to key elements of successful coaching and provide them with opportunities to put this into practice in their own workplaces.

Who is the course intended for?

The course is intended for all those involved in teacher professional development, for example, subject advisors, HoDs/DHs, principals and their deputies, and coaches working for NGOs. It will assist with QMS and the setting up of Professional Learning Communities (PLCs).

How is the course structured?

The course has 13 credits at Level 6. It is offered fully online using the Rhodes University learning management system, RUconnected, plus Zoom sessions and structured, independent work.

The course has 6 modules plus a short onboarding session and a concluding session which rounds off the course

Module	Focus of the Module	Date of Session

How long will the course take?

The course takes 6 months. Each module has one Zoom session plus independent work and assignments. You will be expected to put aside approximately 5 hours per week in addition to the zoom sessions, to successfully complete the course. On successful completion, you will be awarded a Rhodes University Certificate of Competence. The course has been endorsed for 30 SACE PD points.

Minimum entrance requirements

A teaching qualification at Level 5. Ideally, you should have a laptop or tablet; however, you could manage with a smartphone.
