Introduction: Rhodents Abroad

General Information Regarding the Student Exchange Programmes

Rhodes offers a number of exciting student exchange programmes. All applications for these exchange programmes will be screened by a selection committee and final acceptance is conditional upon host institution selection and Rhodes Faculty approval.

What is an exchange programme?

Rhodes students participating in an exchange programme will attend an overseas institution for an academic semester. As some of the semester dates differ abroad, students will be exempt from attending Rhodes for the full equivalent semester, i.e. February to June or July to November, and may make use of the different time frames to travel while abroad.

Rhodes students will have exchange student status at the host institutions and may take courses for transfer credit at Rhodes University, but will not be eligible for a degree from the host institution. Rhodes students will continue as candidates for their degrees at Rhodes.

Choosing a Destination

Two things should determine your choice of destination:

1. Course content and credits – during an exchange programme, you must attain credits for subjects that you are taking at Rhodes. It is imperative that you take courses abroad that are approved by the relevant Heads of Department at Rhodes. Some destinations are only viable for students taking certain subjects (e.g. Commerce Students) and some degrees (LLB) and subjects (Law) have strict limitations on where you go. Be sure to consult with your Head(s) of Department when deciding where to go. In certain cases, the International Office will advise you against going on exchange if it will negatively impact on your study path.
2. Financial implications – all exchange programmes cost extra, but some cost more than others. Be sure that you know what expenses you will be expected to cover when going on exchange. If you are uncertain, visit the universities' websites and talk to the international officer at Rhodes.

Applying for an exchange

Please note that the relevant information regarding courses on offer, as well as general information about the institutions, is available from each institution's website. It is the student's responsibility to review this information before applying for the exchange programme to ensure that there are suitable courses available.

Students are invited to apply and must submit their application form along with their curriculum vitae, a personal motivation letter and an up-to-date course record, to the International Office at Rhodes University by the deadline specified on the front page of this booklet. The Selection Committee then meets to shortlist students. Students on the shortlist are invited to be interviewed by the Selection Committee; thereafter final selection is made by Rhodes. The successful students will then apply to the various host institutions via the Rhodes International Office. Please note that academic acceptance by the host institution is not automatic.

Before embarking on an exchange, Rhodes students must have obtained approval from the appropriate Head of Department and the Dean of the Faculty at Rhodes for the inclusion of the proposed transfer credit from the host institution in their Rhodes University degree structure. The onus is on you, the student, to ensure that the HOD has approved the courses. This approval must be facilitated through the International Office. Rhodes students are required to spend one semester at the host institution.

APPLICATION FORMS CAN BE DOWNLOADED FROM OUR INTERNATIONAL OFFICE WEBSITE:

<http://www.ru.ac.za/international/rhodents/>. Please submit these to the International Office along with all the supporting documentation.

Financial Implications

Students participating in exchange programmes usually spend in the region of R35 000, including travel costs, but excluding tuition and accommodation expenses. However, please note that some of the programmes have already made provision for financial assistance and the International Office is able to assist in some cases. Please be aware that payment of all fees is due by the dates indicated in the Rhodes Fees Booklet sent out to you at the beginning of each year.

Financial Support

Some partner universities in countries such as the UK, Germany and the USA have access to funding assistance for students going on exchange. Please note that it is very rare that students will get all expenses covered.

Enquiries

Please feel free to come and speak to us at the International Office between 14h00-16h00 on Monday to Friday. Tel: 046 603 8225 or email internationaloffice@ru.ac.za.

Zimbabwe

Midlands's State University

Gweru

Eligibility:	Students entering second, third or Honours level
Criteria:	Academic excellence (Second class or above)
Semester dates:	Semester 1: February – June Semester 2: August – November
Type of exchange:	Tuition and Accommodation Exchange

Brief Institutional Overview:

The idea of a University in the Midlands dates back to the foundation of the National University of Science and Technology when Gweru, which was identified as a possible site for a second University campus in the country, lost its bid to Bulawayo.

In 1998 Gweru Teachers College started to enroll students studying for the Bachelor of Commerce with Education and the Bachelor of Science with Education degrees offered by the University of Zimbabwe.

The Minister of Higher Education and Technology transformed the devolution project at Gweru into Zimbabwe's third state University by means of the State University in the Midlands Act of April 1999. The new university, whose name was later changed to the Midlands State University, was to be housed at the Gweru Teachers College premises. This exchange is purely a Law exchange.

University of Windsor

Windsor, Ontario

Eligibility:	Students entering second, third or Honours level
Criteria:	Academic excellence (Second class or above)
Semester dates:	Semester 1: September – December Semester 2: January – May
Type of exchange:	Tuition Exchange

Brief Institution Overview:

The University of Windsor is located at the crossroads of North America, 15 minutes from the start of Highway 401 or Michigan's I-75, and facing one of Canada's most beautiful waterfronts on the Detroit River. That location speaks to UWindsor's greatness as an internationally oriented, multi-disciplined institution that actively encourages a broad diversity of students, faculty and staff. Those strengths vault it to the forefront of Canadian universities in the creation of an awareness and appreciation of difference — difference in ethnic backgrounds, difference in cultures and difference in dreams.

From that diversity, the University fosters an atmosphere of close cooperation between faculty and students, creating a unifying atmosphere of excellence across all of its faculties to encourage lifelong learning, teaching, research and discovery.

Its basic characteristics of openness, warmth and support make the University of Windsor an exceptionally welcoming community for students and faculty from Asia, Europe, and Africa — or from just down the street.

Germany

Hochschule Osnabrück – University of Applied Sciences

Osnabrück

Eligibility:	Commerce students entering third year or Honours level
Criteria:	Academic excellence (Second class or above)
Semester dates:	Semester 1: September – February Semester 2: March – July
Type of exchange:	Tuition and partial Accommodation Exchange

Brief Institution Overview:

Hochschule Osnabrück, like most other Universities of Applied Sciences in Germany, was founded in 1971 and thus represents a relatively young type of institution in the field of higher education. By now, however, more than 35 % of all graduates in Germany come from this kind of university.

What primarily attracts students to Universities of Applied Sciences is a shorter route to their later profession. Studies at Universities of Applied Sciences are highly practice-oriented. A tight organisation of degree programmes, teaching in small groups, examinations throughout the students' studies and a choice of subjects that is oriented towards the needs of professional practice, facilitate shorter average study periods compared to those which are normally required at traditional universities. Furthermore, academic or scientific research at Universities of Applied Sciences is also geared towards practical requirements.

Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster

Münster

Eligibility:	Commerce Honours Students Only
Criteria:	Academic excellence (Second class or above)
Semester dates:	Semester 1: October – February Semester 2: April – August
Type of exchange:	Tuition Exchange

Brief Institution Overview:

The WWU increasingly offers modular courses of study leading to bachelor and Masters degrees. This not only makes international exchanges easier, but also ensures high-quality teaching which can compete with the world's best. The German Science Council (Wissenschaftsrat) also emphasises the quality of teaching at the WWU Münster.

The WWU Münster has two theatres, four museums and a botanical garden. The cultural life of the entire city is marked by numerous dance and theatre groups, music ensembles, choirs and – not least – by the Conservatory.

In 2006 the German University Sports Association named WWU as the University of the Year because of the successful work done by its University sports department. Every week around 15,000 people take part in one of the 90 sports courses (competitive and non-competitive) offered as part of the university sports programme.
