Monday Sept. 08, 2008

Highway Africa means a big deal to me; as it does to others around the continent involved in education, research and the practice of journalism.

Let's get some of the facts out of the way:

- This year's conference runs between September 8 and 12 (inclusive).
- This is the 12th time HA has been held

Editor underscores importance of Conference

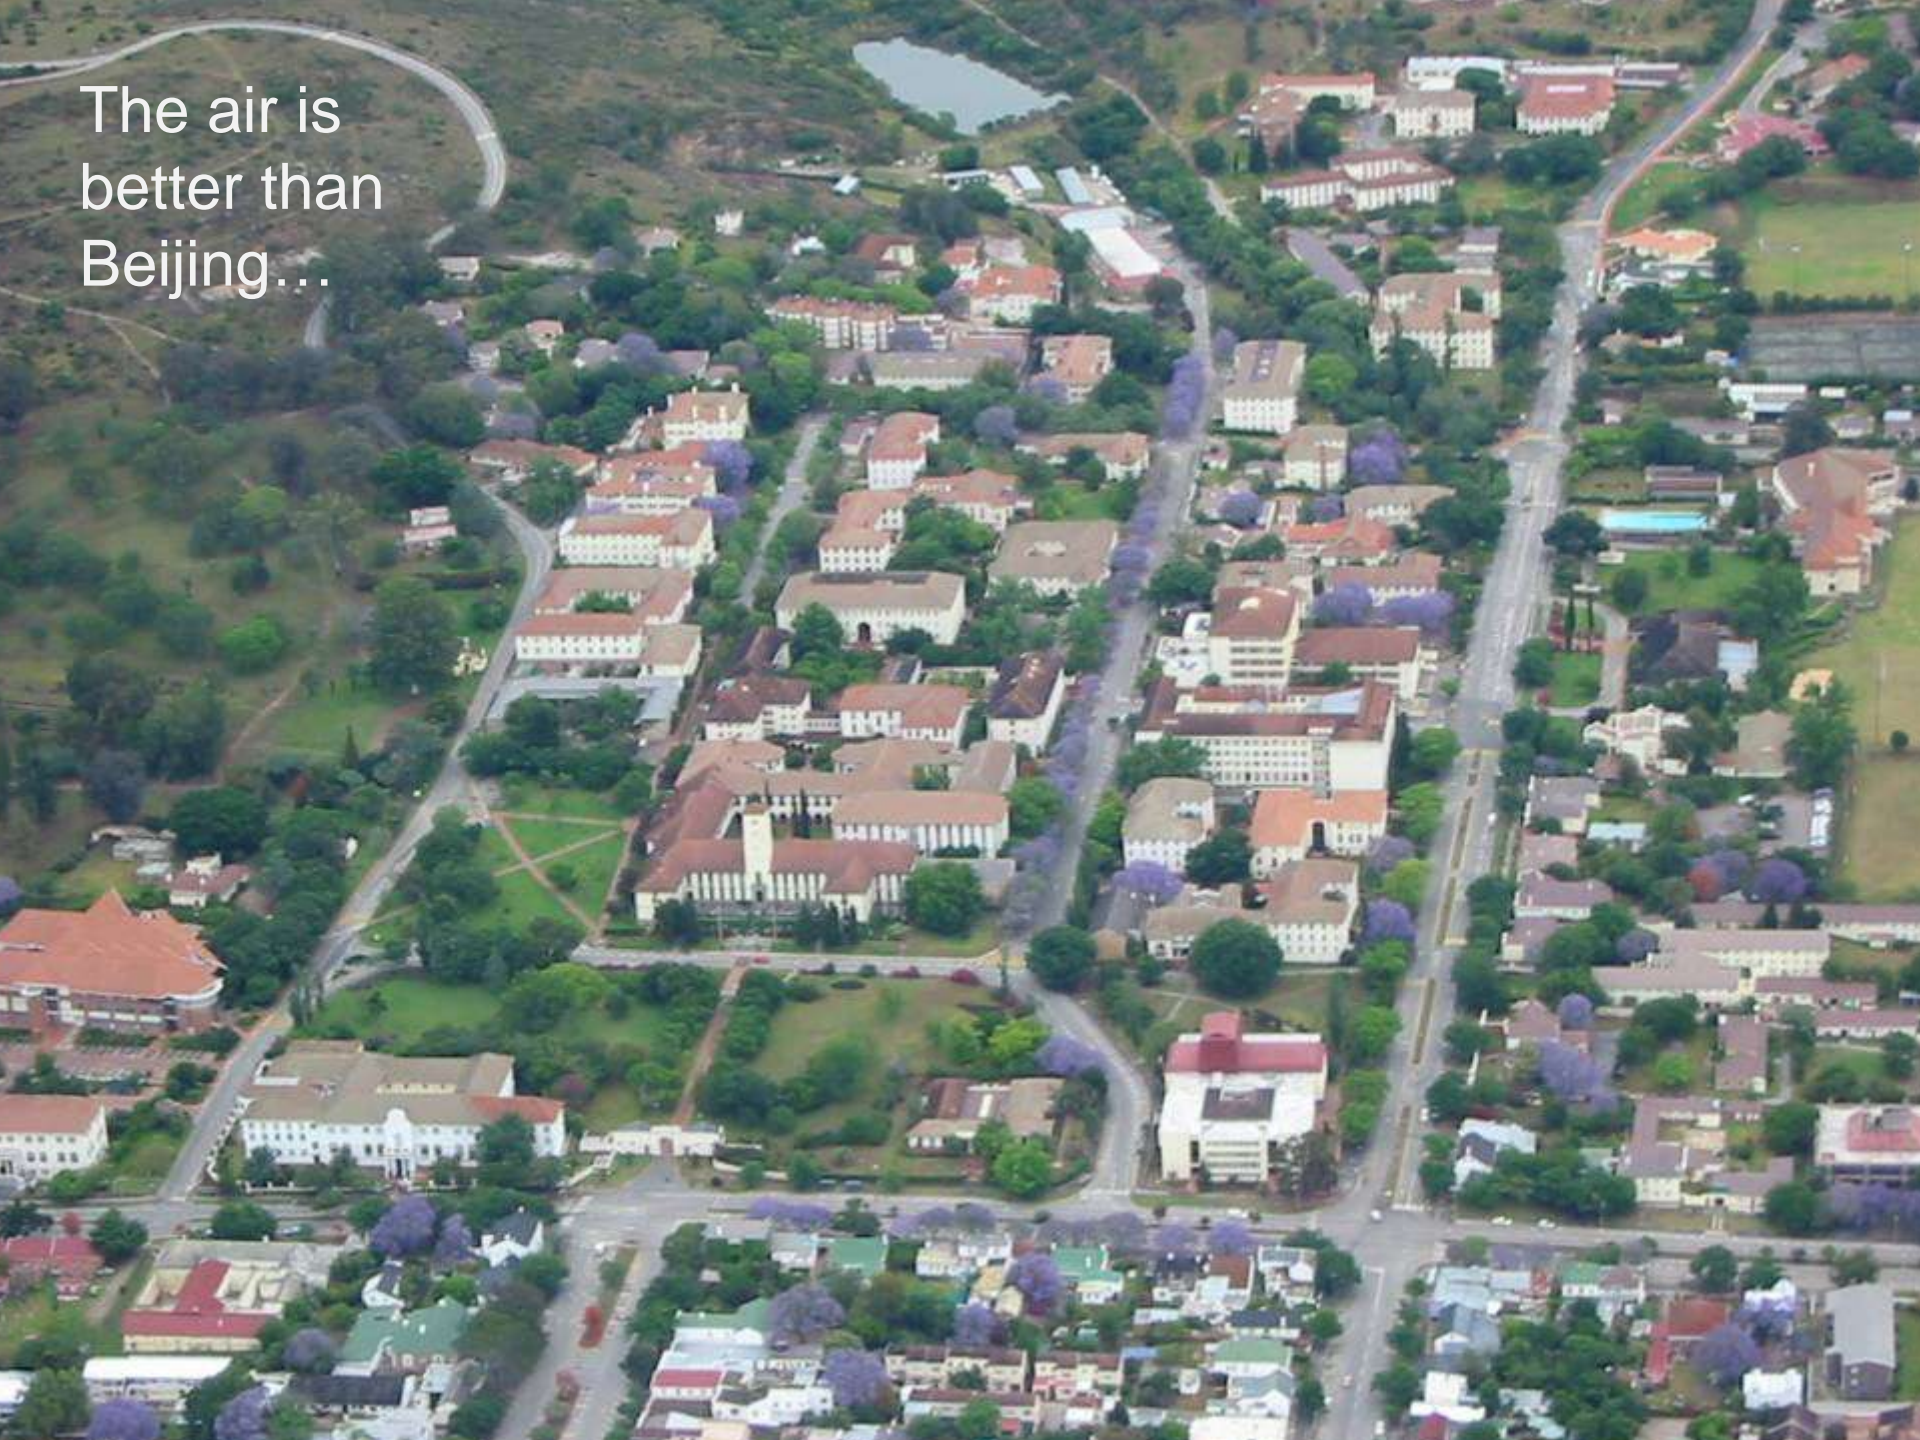

By Levi Kabwato

FIREBRAND Editor-in-Chief of City Press, one of South Africa's leading Sunday newspapers and the chairperson of The African Editors Forum, Mthatha Tsedu has described UNESCO's consultation meeting on capacity building for potential centres of excellence in Journalism training in Africa as an important gathering to the future of journalism on the continent.

Speaking to the 80 delegates who attended the opening dinner for the consultation meeting, Tsedu said the dawn of democracy around the world had "created more avenues for media throughout Africa" but was quick to point out that these avenues
