1. Introduction

1.1 Overview

Customary law is a self standing course in the Faculty of Law in LLB 2 as well as comprising one of the six component courses in the Legal Theory major in the Faculties of Humanities, Commerce and Science. Students who pass Customary law as part of the Legal Theory major are exempted from the course in the LLB curriculum.

The purpose of the course is to introduce students to the history of recognition and application of customary law as part of the national legal system. Students are also introduced to the notion of legal and cultural pluralism and the impact of the new Constitution on some aspects of Customary law. Since the advent of the new constitutional dispensation there has been numerous legal challenges regarding the constitutionality of some customary law rules and practices.

- To assist students to gain a better understanding of the application of choice law rules in the resolution of civil disputes in the lower and superior courts in terms of s 211(3) of the Constitution r/w 1(1) of the Law of Evidence Amendment Act 45 of 1988.

- To assist students in extracting legal principles from the law reports and other source materials.
