LAW OF SALE AND LEASE – 2010

The Law of Sale and Lease is a final year LLB credit. The two subjects divide the course in two, with Sale being offered in term 1, and Lease in term 2. For the purposes of coherence, each component of the course is discussed separately below, in order to explain more specifically the nature of each component.

A    SALE

INTRODUCTION

Overview

The purpose of the sale portion of the course is to provide insight into the nature and function of the law of sale in South Africa. More particularly:

- To provide the students with a thorough understanding of the essential elements of a contract of sale, and how the sale contract differs from other forms of contract.
- To provide the students with a thorough understanding of the legal effects of a contract of sale.
- To ensure that the students are aware of the legal duties imposed upon buyers and sellers, and the consequences that may flow if these duties are breached.
- To make the students aware of the special requirements that attach to certain special forms of sale, or sales regulated by statute.
- To assist students in being able to identify and solve authentic legal problems with regard to sale contracts.
- To familiarise students with legal concepts and terminology commonly encountered in the law of sale.

Credit Value

5 Credits.

Assumptions of Prior Learning

In order successfully to complete this portion of the course, students need to be able to:

- Be capable of writing and communicating in coherent English.
- Know how and where to access resources such as textbooks, law reports and statutes in the Law Library.
- Have a working knowledge of the general principles of the law of contract.
- Be capable of independent learning.
- Read, analyse and extract principles from law reports and other source material.
- Understand the system of judicial precedent, and the important role precedent plays in private law.
- Have a developed understanding of legal problem-solving techniques.
OUTCOMES

Critical Outcomes

Students will be able to:

(a) identify and solve practical legal problems.
(b) organise and manage themselves and their work load.
(c) collect, analyse and evaluate information from the various sources of law, as well as information conveyed in the classroom environment.
(d) communicate effectively in class debate and written assignments.
(e) use technology in legal research.
(f) recognise problem-solving contexts involving the law of sale.

Intended Specific Outcomes for Sale

The Sale portion of the course is designed so that students successfully completing this portion of the course should be able to achieve the following outcomes. The student should be able to:

(a) Understand and explain the essential elements of a valid contract of sale.
(b) Understand and explain some of the key legal consequences of entering into a contract of sale.
(c) Understand and explain the legal duties that are imposed upon buyers and sellers, and the consequences that flow if these duties are breached.
(d) Understand and explain the features of certain special types of sale contracts, and sales regulated by statutes.
(e) Apply the knowledge acquired during the course to solve practical problems with regard to sale contracts.

TEACHING METHODS

The course will be presented by means of viva voce lectures. There is a relatively thorough handout for the course, which the students receive on the first day, and which provides the basic structure of the lectured course. The handout is not comprehensive, though: some topics will be covered orally in class only, and students will be expected to take their own notes in lectures to supplement the handout. In lectures, the substantive law (both common law and statute law) will be discussed, leading precedents from the case law will be analysed, and the views of leading academic commentators will be explained. Occasionally, students will be expected to explain case law and consider practical questions in class. Students are expected to assume responsibility for their learning by reading ahead before each lecture, and consolidating afterwards. Lectures are compulsory. The normal Faculty regulations concerning lecture attendance and DP certificates apply. There are no tutorials in this portion of the course.
COURSE CONTENT

Section 1 – The definition and essentials of the contract

- Definition
- Comparison with other contracts
- Essentials: the thing sold (merx) and the price (pretium)

Section 2 – The legal effect of the contract

- The passing of ownership
- Risk and benefit
- Conditional sales

Section 3 – Seller’s legal duties and buyer’s remedies

- Care of the thing sold
- Making the thing sold available
- Warranty against eviction
- Duty to deliver the merx free from defects
  - patent and latent defects and remedies
  - exclusion of liability for defects
  - aedilitian actions in cases of dicta et promissa

Section 4 – Buyer’s duties and seller’s remedies

- Payment of the purchase price
- Taking delivery of the merx
- Reimbursement of the seller’s necessary expenses
- Remedies

Section 5 – Special sales

- Auctions

Section 6 – Common sales regulated by statute

- The Consumer Protection Act 68 of 2008 (focus topic for 2010).
RESOURCES

The core reading and study material for this course are the leading judgments on the aspects of the law of sale to be studied. These cases may be found in the law reports, which may be accessed in the Law Library, both in paper and electronic form. For a full list of cases, see the course handout.

As far as textbooks are concerned, although there is no prescribed text, the one book that is highly recommended is Kerr’s The Law of Sale and Lease (3rd edition, Butterworths, 2004). Other recommended texts are:

De Wet and Van Wyk: Die Suid-Afrikaanse Kontraktereg en Handelsreg (5th ed, Butterworths, 1992)

Hackwill, G: Mackeurtan’s Sale of Goods in South Africa (5th ed, Juta, 1984) (Mackeurtan)

Joubert, W (ed): The Law of South Africa, vol 24, section on Sale by Kerr

Kahn (ed): Contract and Mercantile Law through the Cases, Vol II (Juta, 1985), especially the chapter by Zeffert "Purchase and Sale" 3-249

Occasionally, students will be referred to pertinent Journal articles on aspects of the course content. These may also be found in the Library.

Students are strongly advised to utilise these resources in the course of their studies.

STUDENT ASSESSMENT

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Specific Outcomes (On completion of this course, the student should be able to:)</th>
<th>Assessment Criteria (What evidence must the student provide to show that they are competent? The student must be able to:)</th>
<th>Assessment Tasks (The evidence will be gathered in the following way. The student may be expected to:)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Understand and explain the essential elements of a valid contract of sale. | - Define the two essential elements of a contract of sale.
- Describe and explain the requirements that have to be satisfied for these elements to exist.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the court decisions that have authoritatively determined what the various elements and | - Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining the requirements that have to be met for one of the elements to be satisfied.
- Write case notes on the leading precedents discussed and examined during the course. |
Understand and explain some of the key legal consequences of entering into a contract of sale.

- Discuss some of the important consequences of entering into a contract of sale, and the legal problems that can be associated with these issues.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the court decisions that have authoritatively determined what the law is with regard to these legal consequences.

- Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining one or another of the legal consequences of entering into a sale contract.
- Write case notes on the leading precedents discussed and examined during the course.

Understand and explain the legal duties that are imposed upon buyers and sellers, and the consequences that flow if these duties are breached.

- Define the various legal duties.
- Describe and explain how these duties impact upon buyers and sellers respectively.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the court decisions that have authoritatively determined what these legal duties are.
- Describe and explain the remedies that may flow if these duties are breached.

- Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining the various legal duties imposed upon buyers and sellers respectively, and the remedies available where such duties are breached.

Understand and explain the features of certain special types of sale contracts, and sales regulated by statutes.

- Discuss the important or unique features of special sale contracts such as auction sales.
- Discuss the legal requirements that attach to certain common sales regulated by statutory enactments, such as property sales, sales of moveable property on credit, and internet sales.

- Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining the legal features of special forms of sale contract or contracts regulated by statute.

Apply the knowledge acquired during the course to solve practical problems with regard to sale contracts.

- Identify the relevant legal problem or issue.
- State the relevant law, and discuss the relevant legal precedents with regard to that issue.
- Apply the law to the facts in order to come to a reasoned conclusion about the problem, and the legal remedies that might flow from the finding.

- Write judgments or opinions in which a practical problem is analysed and solved on the basis of the relevant law and precedents.
Assessment Strategy

The final mark for the Sale module is comprised of the following components:

- Examination: 30 marks out of a 60 mark examination.
- Class work: 15 marks out of a class mark of 30.

These totals will be added to the results in the Lease module and converted into a percentage (see the comment on the examination below).

Sale Test

There is one test for the Sale module, which is written late in the first term. The test will be out of 15 marks, and students have 5 minutes reading time, and 40 minutes in which to complete the test. The test is written in a class period. The test will contain questions equivalent to that which may be found in the June examination, and will require the students to apply their knowledge to solve a legal problem. The test is compulsory.

Examination

One two-hour paper will be written in June. The examination will be out of 60 marks, converted to a final mark out of 70 for calculation purposes. In the Law of Sale, the students will have to answer 2 15-mark questions out of a choice of 3. The questions will require students both to be able to explain legal rules and principles in a theoretical sense as well as to apply their knowledge to solving practical problems in authentic contexts. The examination is compulsory. An external examiner assesses the quality of both the examination paper and the students’ answers.

EVALUATION

This course is evaluated as part of the global evaluation of LLB courses conducted at the end of each semester.
B LEASE

INTRODUCTION

Overview

The purpose of the lease portion of the course is to provide insight into the nature and function of the law of lease in South Africa. More particularly:

- To provide the students with a thorough understanding of the essential elements of a contract of lease, and how the sale contract differs from other forms of contract.
- To provide the students with a thorough understanding of the legal effects of a contract of lease.
- To ensure that the students are aware of the legal duties imposed upon lessors and lessees, and the consequences that may flow if these duties are breached.
- To make the students aware of the special requirements that attach to certain special forms of lease, or leases regulated by statute.
- To assist students in being able to identify and solve authentic legal problems with regard to lease contracts.
- To familiarise students with legal concepts and terminology commonly encountered in the law of lease.

Credit Value

5 Credits.

Assumptions of Prior Learning

In order successfully to complete this portion of the course, students need to be able to:

- Be capable of writing and communicating in coherent English.
- Know how and where to access resources such as textbooks, law reports and statutes in the Law Library.
- Have a working knowledge of the general principles of the law of contract.
- Be capable of independent learning.
- Read, analyse and extract principles from law reports and other source material.
- Understand the system of judicial precedent, and the important role precedent plays in private law.
- Have a developed understanding of legal problem-solving techniques.

OUTCOMES

Critical Outcomes

Students will be able to:
(a) identify and solve practical legal problems.
(b) organise and manage themselves and their work load.
(c) collect, analyse and evaluate information from the various sources of law, as well as information conveyed in the classroom environment.
(d) communicate effectively in class debate and written assignments.
(e) use technology in legal research.
(f) recognise problem-solving contexts involving the law of lease.

Intended Specific Outcomes for Lease

The Sale portion of the course is designed so that students successfully completing this portion of the course should be able to achieve the following outcomes. The student should be able to:

(a) Understand and explain the essential elements of a valid contract of lease.
(b) Understand and explain some of the key legal consequences of entering into a contract of lease.
(c) Understand and explain the legal duties that are imposed upon lessors and lessees, and the consequences that flow if these duties are breached.
(d) Understand and explain the features of certain special types of lease contracts, and leases regulated by statutes.
(e) Apply the knowledge acquired during the course to solve practical problems with regard to lease contracts.

TEACHING METHODS

Teaching will be in the form of discussion of the course material in the lectures. Students are provided with a synopsis dealing with the changes brought about by the new Constitution and recent legislation. The notes are separated into lecture topics. There is a selection of important cases that should be consulted. Students are expected to read the cases and the relevant chapters on the lecture topics to be covered in the lectures. The lecture will be used as a discussion forum for the material set out in the notes. Lecture attendance is compulsory.

COURSE CONTENT

1 The nature of the contract
   The essentials, formalities and the parties

2 Types of leases: Long and short leases and the rule “Huur gaat voor koop”

3 The duration of the contract of letting and hiring
   Fixed period lease
   Tenancy at will
   Periodic lease
   Hybrid

4 The legal effect of leases (rights and duties of the parties).
   The lessor’s obligation to deliver the property to the lessee
   Free of impediments
In a fit condition for the purpose leased
Remedies for breach
The lessor’s obligation to give unhindered use and enjoyment during the currency of the lease
Maintenance and repairs
Warranty against eviction by third parties with greater title
Remedies for breach
The so-called warranty against defects and its remedies
The lessor’s obligation to pay rates and taxes

5 The lessee’s duty to pay rent
Cash or kind
Where and how - the danger of using an agent
When
Lessor’s tacit hypothec
The lessee’s duty to take proper care of the property and remedies
The lessee’s duty to restore the property at the end of the lease and Remedies

6 The impact of the Constitution and recent legislation such as PIE, ESTA, the Rental Housing Act and the Consumer Protection Act

7 The legal effect on third parties (subletting, assignment and cession)

8 Termination of leases
The effect of termination

9 The lessee’s right to improvement

10 Renewal of a lease.

RESOURCES

The core reading for this course are the textbooks, law reports and specific legislation relating to this branch of the law which may be accessed in the library. The list of cases and relevant legislation is reflected in the course outline. On the lease component of the course there is AJ Kerr The Law of Sale and Lease 3rd ed, Lexis Nexis, Butterworths (2004). The book also comments on the recent cases dealing with evictions. Other source materials include Badenhorst et al Silberberg and Schoeman’s The Law of Property, 5th ed, JTR Gibson South African Mercantile & Company law 8th Edition (Juta).
STUDENT ASSESSMENT

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Specific Outcomes (On completion of this course, the student should be able to:)</th>
<th>Assessment Criteria (What evidence must the student provide to show that they are competent? The student must be able to:)</th>
<th>Assessment Tasks (The evidence will be gathered in the following way. The student may be expected to:)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Understand and explain the essential elements of a valid contract of lease. | - Define the essential elements of a contract of lease.
  - Describe and explain the requirements that have to be satisfied for these elements to exist.
  - Demonstrate an understanding of the court decisions that have authoritatively determined what the various elements and requirements are. | - Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining the requirements that have to be met for one of the elements to be satisfied.
  - Write case notes on the leading precedents discussed and examined during the course. |
| Understand and explain some of the key legal consequences of entering into a contract of lease. | - Discuss some of the important consequences of entering into a contract of lease, and the legal problems that can be associated with these issues.
  - Demonstrate an understanding of the court decisions that have authoritatively determined what the legal consequences are. | - Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining one or another of the legal consequences of entering into a lease contract.
  - Write case notes on the leading precedents discussed and examined during the course. |
| Understand and explain the legal duties that are imposed upon buyers and sellers, and the consequences that flow if these duties are breached. | - Define the various legal duties.
  - Describe and explain how these duties impact upon lessors and lessees respectively.
  - Demonstrate an understanding of the court decisions that have authoritatively determined what these legal duties are.
  - Describe and explain the remedies that may flow if these duties are breached. | - Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining the various legal duties imposed upon lessors and lessees respectively, and the remedies available where such duties are breached. |
| Understand and explain the features of certain special types of lease contracts, and sales regulated by statutes. | - Discuss the important or unique features of special leases.
  - Discuss the legal requirements that attach to certain common forms of lease regulated by statutory enactments and constitutional principles. | - Write short essays, supported by authority, explaining the legal features of special forms of lease contract or leases regulated by statute. |
| Apply the knowledge acquired during the course to solve practical problems with regard to sale contracts. | - Identify the relevant legal problem or issue.
- State the relevant law, and discuss the relevant legal precedents with regard to that issue.
- Apply the law to the facts in order to come to a reasoned conclusion about the problem, and the legal remedies that might flow from the finding. | - Write judgments or opinions in which a practical problem is analysed and solved on the basis of the relevant law and precedents. |

Assessment Strategy

The final mark for the Lease module is comprised of the following components:

- Examination: 30 marks out of a 60 mark examination.
- Class work: 15 marks out of a class mark of 30.

These totals will be added to the results in the Sale module and converted into a percentage (see the comment on the examination below).

Lease Test

There is one test for the Lease module, which is written late in the second term. The test will be out of 15 marks, and students have 40 minutes in which to complete the test. The test is written in a class period. The test will contain questions equivalent to that which may be found in the June examination, and will require the students to apply their knowledge to solve a legal problem. The test is compulsory.

Examination

One two-hour paper will be written in June. The examination will be out of 60 marks, converted to a final mark out of 70 for calculation purposes. In the Law of Lease, the students will have to answer 2 15-mark questions out of a choice of 3. The questions will require students both to be able to explain legal rules and principles in a theoretical sense as well as to apply their knowledge to solving practical problems in authentic contexts. The examination is compulsory. An external examiner assesses the quality of both the examination paper and the students’ answers.

EVALUATION

This course is evaluated as part of the global evaluation of LLB courses conducted at the end of each semester.