INVITES APPLICATIONS FOR THE

CRAIB FAMILY SCHOLARSHIP

This scholarship for Botany studies at Rhodes University, related to the protection of indigenous plants, has been established through the generous support from the Craib Family Scholarship Trust.

For prospective Honours students, information on the Botany Honours programme can be accessed on the Botany Department’s website. Prospective MSc and PhD students should consult academic staff in the department about their proposed research projects - information on areas of expertise, ongoing research and academic staff in the Botany Department can also be found on the Botany Department’s website.

ELIGIBILITY

- Full-time, in attendance
- Honours, Masters or PhD
- Academic merit
- Financial need in the event of equal academic merit

TENURE: ONE year; funding for up to two years (MSc) and three years (PhD) subject to excellent progress.

VALUE: R50 000 Honours; R90 000 MSc; R120 000 PhD

CLOSING DATE: 30 September 2018

Please provide the following (as there is no application form to complete):

- Academic CV
- Certified copies of academic transcripts
- Motivation/Essay not exceeding 300 words explaining your proposed area of research and how it relates to the protection of indigenous plants
- A letter of support from your prospective supervisor (or current supervisor if already registered for the degree the funding is intended to support)

Applications to be emailed to: pgfunding@ru.ac.za clearly marked Craib Family Scholarship application.

Faxed copies, hard copies and late applications will NOT be considered